“My prayers are so very much with you at this time. I have been in your place and know there isnt enough comfort to fill the hole in your heart. His love will always be there to fill your memories and know he will always be here in spirit; forever he will never leave your side.

I known Austin since he was a little kid. He was always a very gifted child, almost to grown for his own britches. He was very sweet and polite and is so loved by many. We love Austin and our hearts ache at the loss of young man that had a promising future. He is safe in the arms of our Lord Jesus Christ now and I know there is no greater comfort. My worries is over his mom and Grandfather. My husband and I are praying so hard for Christ to comfort this family always. One thing I can say for Austin is he knew he was loved. He had a great family here on earth that made sure he had everything he needed. He was raised so well and became a man before he turned into a man. Love you Austin, Kim, and Grand daddy!
