“ Phyllis & Hugh:

I was so sorry to hear about your Mom's passing. As you know, I've known your Mom for the majority of my life. I always thought that she considered me, along with the others in our circle of friends, part of her extended family...just another one of her "kids". I remember her as being one of the first adults, other than my parents, that I felt comfortable having a conversation with. She just had that way about her. Some of my fondest memories of her is being around when she found something to be funny and she began that infectious laugh that soon got everyone else laughing...to the point that once we stopped, we may very well have forgotten what we were laughing about in the first place...which of course, got us to laughing again. She was such a special person...a true Southern Lady. Many of us have moved away and weren't around in recent years, but this does not lessen our memory of her or the impact that she had on so many lives. She will certainly be missed by many. My thoughts and prayers are with you.
