“I wish I had known Kera Grace. From what everyone has said about her and the pictures that I have seen of her, she was God's gift to this world for a short time. She glowed in every picture. You could see her love for life and her love for others. I thank God for sharing her with us. I look forward to reading the memories of her on here and in the FB group.
My love goes out to her family and many friends that will be missing her. Remember during this time it's OK to laugh and remember the good times that you had with Kera Grace. It's OK to smile. Yes, you're going to cry, but don't forget to smile and laugh as well.

Love you all

“It’s hard for me to accept that you’re gone and I don’t want to believe it. Me and you were closer than close and we were always around each other when possible. It’s going to be hard to go back to school and not see your bright smile everyday. Words can’t explain how much I miss you kera. All the times we talked on the phone for hours to the times we spent outside of school. I would’ve never expected this to happen to you but you’re in a better place looking down us. You will always be remembered and you will be never forgotten. Rest easy kera. Love you

“ I did not know your precious daughter, I followed her journey through Shannon Taylor’s Face Book page. Myself and about 60 of my Facebook friends were in prayer for her and our hearts broke for y’all at the news of her passing. Be assured that Kera Grace’s life touched people you all will never know. We all are lifting you up in prayer. I know that Keri Grace is an amazing angel, and heaven is sweeter with her there!

“ Kera Grace, I love you so much. You brought so much happiness to our lives. I will miss your hugs and you telling me you love me. I wanted to take you somewhere hoping you would get well so I could. I'm not ready for you to be gone from earth. I don't question God's will but it hurts so much to know I will never see you again. Help me watch over mama and daddy. Tell Jesus I love him and I know he will take good care of you. I will always have you in my heart and I can't wait to see you again in heaven and give you the biggest hug and love and tell you how much I love you.
