“ I first met Michael Hill when we were both 12 years old. From our first encounter playing on a youth baseball team, a lifetime friendship developed. Through our school years, we were together so much that people thought we were brothers. Our classes were together, we worked together, hunted together, fished together, his parents were like my own. As we moved through school and into life the friendship endured. We made each other laugh with our continual practical jokes we would play on one another. As time went on, we could re-unite and immediately be laughing uncontrollably with the treasure chest of memories that we could draw on. Mike was best man at my wedding and I was best man at his wedding. One of my sons is named after him.

The friendship that we shared was unconditional. We could always count on each other for help or support if needed.

Mike was always proud of his service in the Marine Corps. He volunteered out of high school and was honored to serve his country. His pride in the Corps and of himself as a Marine was solid and well deserved.

Rest in peace my friend. You will always be in my thoughts.

“ My deepest sympathy to the family. Losing a loved one is always very hard. God knows and feels your pain (Matthew 10:29-31). We are encouraged to "throw our burdens on him and he will sustain us" (Psalm 55:22). Although there are tears of grief today, God promises a joyful tomorrow without death, mourning, pain, tears or sorrow (Revelation 21:4). He also promises a resurrection to life for our loved ones whom we have lost (John 5:28, 29). In time, may your hearts find comfort in what Jehovah has promised, for it will all shortly come true (Titus 1:2).
