“ To the entire family of Miranda Peake. I love you all and give you my condolences. She is better now watching us from Heaven above. (Probably a lot closer than we would prefer, lol) May God give you the strength and the courage to keep moving forward because we know that's what she would want followed by the peace and understanding of letting go! God Bless

“ So sorry for your loss. Lifting the family up in prayer. There are no words to heal your heart. Just know that she was loved and is at peace now. She is with our Father and her body is "new". No more pain, no more sorrow. The only tears shed will be here on earth. The angels are rejoicing with her in heaven.
