“ I have never met Vincent in person. We became Facebook friends. I'm usually hesitant to accept friend requests from people I don't know, but something about how he communicated got me to accept. And I did not regret it at all. It was a joy to communicate with Vincent. He was always so positive. And he had a great sense of humor. I will miss him.

“ I had the great pleasure of meeting this kind hearted, crazy man over 10 years ago on a video game that he loved so much. We had great fun and a lot of fun and deep conversations. He was one of the good ones who always thought of others before himself. I will miss him and our conversations about life. Rest in heaven Vince I will miss you dearly my friend.
